

1 it would be an opportunity to have a continuing body.

2 By the way, we like the word, continuing,
3 rather than, continuous. It just troubles us that the 4 General Assembly itself would not have the power to 5 convene if it so desired. The way we have this now, the 6 Governor may call a special session. The last sentence,
7 The Governor may convene the General Assembly in special 8 session at any time, but the Legislature does not have 9 this power; and yet our entire point of focus has been 10 to give each body the power that it needs in terms of 11 fulfilling its requirements, and we have said over and 12 over again that the mere fact that we indicate that the 13 General Assembly may continue its session so long as in 14 its judgment the public interest may require; and we 15 would intend to either put a period there and leave the 16 rest out or state it as we did in the Fourth Edition when 17 we said the General Assembly shall be a continuing body,
18 meeting in regular annual sessions.

19 First, however, I think it would be more im-
20 portant for us to vote with finality on this question
21 which has been very troublesome to us in that the decision
